CRE and DEI Webinar

NOV. 17, 2020 | 11-11:45 AM ET

Learn what leading real estate companies are doing to foster diversity, equity, and inclusion. This webinar will explore DEI programs built and implemented by real estate companies. Featured speakers Marie Kastens, managing director with CBRE; and Jenny Bean, senior vice president of Human Resources with Duke Realty, will lead this webinar by sharing examples and lessons learned and also spark dialog around the future of DEI initiatives.

JENNY BEAN
SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, HUMAN RESOURCES, DUKE REALTY

As Senior Vice President, Human Resources, Jenny is responsible for developing, communicating and implementing a strategic human resources plan that aligns to Duke Realty's long-term business strategy. This includes attracting and retaining the highest qualified candidates for open positions, structuring and administering competitive benefit packages and compensation systems, developing and administering a performance management system, providing training and development, managing employee relations and overseeing succession management.

MARIE KASTENS
MANAGING DIRECTORY, CBRE

As Managing Director, Marie Kastens oversees the strategic property management responsibilities for CBRE's Atlanta region, which includes a portfolio of approximately 40 million SF of office, industrial and retail properties located in Georgia and Alabama. Leading a team of five directors and associate directors, who in turn manage over 150 real estate managers and engineering personnel, Marie ensures the day-to-day management and operations requirements are being met, in order to meet the investment interests of the buildings' owners.
